

Start Early, Work Hard and The Sky is the Limit!!

In early 2007, I could see the annoyance in the younger brother of the seven-year-old I was coaching during a lesson. All he wanted to do was hit. After a few minutes of conversation with his dad, I agreed to work with him only if he was willing to learn how to switch hit. I placed the ball on the tee and set up the five-year-old on the left side of the plate. He swung as hard as he could, missed the ball and hit me directly in the kneecap. I thought he broke it. I was dying and I tried not to show how much it hurt; I did not want to discourage this driven young boy after only one swing. Now, over 100,000 swings later, coaching him with many years of hard work as a switch hitter and a catcher, Drew Cavanaugh has turned into one of the best defensive catchers in the country with the added bonus of being a great switch hitter. Something missing in the game today are great defensive and offensive catchers.

After his Junior Year, Drew earned First Team All-State at Stoney Creek HS and held Perfect Game's second-best recorded POP Time at 1.78 Seconds. Here are Drew's current Perfect Game numbers.

Drew had to make a very difficult decision this year. Did he want to leave all his friends for his senior year of high school to attend IMG Academy in Florida? I give him a lot of credit for making a very difficult decision to leave not only his friends, but his family too in order to pursue his dream of eventually playing professional baseball.

As of today, he has made the national travel team at the IMG Academy with a roster filled with fantastic players.

During the recent weekend of January 18 and 19, Drew competed in Perfect Game's World Showcase against many players from the Caribbean. This was the 4th consecutive Perfect Game showcase where he outperformed all other catchers. Below is the scouting blog report from the World Showcase where Drew was selected as one of Perfect Games' few Top Prospects. Drew's performance at the showcase included throwing out Antonio Gleaton attempting to steal second. Antonio recorded the second best 60-yard time at 6.4 seconds.

Cavanaugh made a loud impression with his defensive abilities from his overall flexibility to his catch-and-throw skills, emphasized by a plus transfer. He's also a switch-hitter who showed a handle from both sides of the plate with a short, quick path.
